Recently there have been an increased number of children not wearing appropriate P.E kit for their lessons.

Just as a reminder the school policy for P.E kit is:

The Human Monkey

Cheng Po had red eyes like strawberries. His wide evil grin could scare away a pack of wolves. Eventually, he had created a potion called Slimana. When he injected humans with Slimana, they would turn into monkeys controlled by him. He hated his only son, so he was about to inject him.

Arlow was innocent, but now he was a victim. He was at the ~~Amazon~~ Amazon forest, looking for rare species of animals until his evil father - Cheng Po - met him at the river. Arlow tried running away unsuspectingly, but his little, stumpy legs didn't take him far. Cheng Po easily caught up to his son.

"Arlow! Why are you running away from me?!" he yelled.

"Umm... I didn't! I just didn't see you!" he replied anxiously.

"Tut tut tut! Don't lie to me! You ruined my life, so now you're gonna pay!" he shouted at Arlow. Without hesitation, he happily injected his son.

Chloe

Arlow could feel the world around him getting bigger. His father's laugh stained his ears. He started walking towards the secret 'Temple Of The Lost' that only he knew where it was.

"Hahahaha! You are under my control, monkey!" he laughed.

Meanwhile (at the Science Lab)

"Ha! That fool, we know about Slimana, and we know a cure for it!" said Arlow's boss. He had told him about his evil father, about Slimana. He immediately - immediately got in his lime green jeep.

"Arlow here I come!" he yelled as he left the Science Lab.

Chloe

Well done to Chloe in 6T for her wonderful story!
